

In recent days, the outbreak of the new coronavirus has spread from Hubei Province to all corners of China. The people of China, and especially the medical workers fighting on the front lines, are locked in a desperate battle of prevention and control against this new virus. The development of the virus and the safety of our friends in China are of utmost concern to all of us here in the U.S. As such, and in recognition of the global implications at stake, we hereby appeal to all Minnesotans to take an active role in the efforts to contain this outbreak. Let's do what we can to show our solidarity and support for all those fighting on the front lines!

Minnesota International Chinese School is partnering with the Minnesota Chinese American Chamber of Commerce and the Council for US-China Medical Technology Exchanges to raise funds for purchasing medical supplies including 50-100 medical-grade oxygen concentrator devices, 1,000 infrared thermometers, and single-use medical-grade protective clothing and face masks. All supplies will be purchased directly from the manufacturer and sent directly to hospitals in need in China. If you have friends or relatives working in the medical field in China and know of hospitals facing a shortage of these devices, please contact us to apply for that hospital to be one of our recipients. We hope our friends in Minnesota will show support for the people of China and stand with them in the fight against the new coronavirus!

Medical Supplies to be purchased:

Medical Oxygen Concentrators:

The most common type of medical oxygen concentrators uses pressure swing adsorption (PSA) technology to extract oxygen from surrounding air. Medical oxygen concentrators contain molecular sieves that each have a surface area of 800 – 1,000 m²/g. Under high pressure, these sieves use physical adsorption and desorption technology to filter nitrogen out of the air. The remaining oxygen is then collected and purified to provide pure oxygen to the patient. The new coronavirus can cause loss of pulmonary function and reduced blood oxygen levels, requiring concentrated oxygen to strengthen the immune system and support the patient’s recovery.
